

Raising My Puppy

A simple, step-by-step guide + planner to help you raise your puppy without guessing what to do next.

How to Use This Planner

Your puppy planner works best when you make it yours.

1. Start with All About Me

Fill in your puppy's name, birthday, breed, and the little details that make them who they are. This is your puppy's home base.

2. Set Up Your Contacts

Write down your vet, emergency clinic, trainer, and anyone else on your puppy's team. You'll be glad it's all in one spot.

3. Work Through the Checklist

Use the New Puppy Checklist to make sure you have everything ready. Check items off as you go.

4. Track Daily Routines

Log meals in the Feeding Log, track potty breaks, and note patterns. Consistency is your best friend (besides your puppy).

5. Build Socialization & Training

Use the Socialization Chart to introduce new experiences. Follow the Training Guides for Sit and Leave It, then plan your weekly sessions.

6. Record Health & Vet Visits

Keep vaccination records current, log every vet visit, and track any allergy symptoms so nothing slips through the cracks.

7. Capture Milestones & Memories

Use the Notes pages to jot down firsts, funny moments, and the little wins. These pages are yours to fill however you like.

Those tiny paws grow fast. This planner helps you enjoy every step.

All About Me

NAME: _____

BREED: _____

DATE OF BIRTH: _____

WEIGHT: _____

GENDER: _____

MICROCHIP INFO: _____

DATE POTTY-TRAINED: _____

DATE KENNEL TRAINED: _____

Owner Contact Information

NAME: _____

PHONE NUMBER: _____

ADDRESS: _____

SECONDARY CONTACT: _____

PHONE NUMBER: _____

ADDRESS: _____

Important Contacts

CURRENT VETERINARIAN:

EMERGENCY VET CLINIC:

PET INSURANCE:

GROOMER:

PET SITTER:

Emergency & Poison Control

Keep this page handy. In an emergency, every second counts.

EMERGENCY NUMBERS

ASPCA Poison Control: (888) 426-4435 (fee may apply)

Pet Poison Helpline: (855) 764-7661 (fee may apply)

Your Vet: _____ Emergency Vet: _____

When to Call the Vet

- ⚠ Vomiting or diarrhea that won't stop
- ⚠ Difficulty breathing or excessive panting
- ⚠ Swollen abdomen or bloating
- ⚠ Seizures or tremors
- ⚠ Collapse or sudden weakness
- ⚠ Bleeding that won't stop
- ⚠ Pale or blue gums
- ⚠ Not eating for 24+ hours
- ⚠ Ingested something toxic
- ⚠ Eye injury or sudden squinting
- ⚠ Limping or crying in pain

Common Toxic Items

- ☢ Chocolate (all types)
- ☢ Xylitol (gum, candy, peanut butter)
- ☢ Grapes & raisins
- ☢ Onions & garlic
- ☢ Antifreeze
- ☢ Rat poison & pesticides
- ☢ Human medications (ibuprofen, Tylenol)
- ☢ Lilies, sago palms, azaleas
- ☢ Cleaning products
- ☢ Essential oils (tea tree, eucalyptus)
- ☢ Batteries & coins

What to Do in an Emergency

1. Stay calm. Your puppy needs you focused and steady.
2. Remove the danger. Take the item away or move your puppy to safety.
3. Don't induce vomiting unless a vet or poison control tells you to.
4. Call your vet or poison control immediately. Have the product label ready.
5. Note the time and amount ingested. This helps the vet act fast.
6. Follow instructions exactly. Get to the emergency vet if directed.

Save these numbers in your phone right now. You'll be glad you did.

My Vet: _____ Phone: _____

Emergency Vet: _____ Phone: _____

Nearest 24-Hr Clinic: _____ Phone: _____

Start Here: First Week

Everything you need to get your puppy settled, safe, and off to a great start — one step at a time.

New Puppy Checklist

Feeding

- ☐ Food & water bowls
- ☐ Puppy food (age-appropriate)
- ☐ Measuring cup
- ☐ Treat pouch
- ☐ Slow feeder or puzzle bowl

Sleep & Safety

- ☐ Crate (sized for breed)
- ☐ Crate pad or bed
- ☐ Blanket
- ☐ Playpen or baby gates
- ☐ ID tag & collar
- ☐ Microchip info card

Walking & Travel

- ☐ Leash (6 ft standard)
- ☐ Harness
- ☐ Poop bags & dispenser
- ☐ Car seat cover or carrier

Grooming

- ☐ Puppy shampoo
- ☐ Brush or comb
- ☐ Nail clippers or grinder
- ☐ Ear cleaner
- ☐ Toothbrush & toothpaste

Training

- ☐ Training treats
- ☐ Clicker (optional)
- ☐ Potty pads (if needed)
- ☐ Enzyme cleaner
- ☐ Training journal or planner

Play & Enrichment

- ☐ Chew toys (puppy-safe)
- ☐ Tug toy
- ☐ Squeaky toy
- ☐ Kong or stuffable toy
- ☐ Snuffle mat

Puppy-Proofing Checklist

Make your home safe before those little paws start exploring!

Kitchen

- ☐ Secure trash cans with lids
- ☐ Lock cabinets with cleaners
- ☐ Store food out of reach
- ☐ Put away sharp utensils
- ☐ Block access to dishwasher

Living Areas

- ☐ Hide or cover electrical cords
- ☐ Remove toxic houseplants
- ☐ Secure loose items on low shelves
- ☐ Move breakables up high
- ☐ Anchor bookshelves & TVs
- ☐ Pick up small objects (coins, toys)

Bathroom

- ☐ Keep toilet lid closed
- ☐ Store medications in cabinets
- ☐ Put away razors & cotton swabs
- ☐ Secure trash can

Bedroom

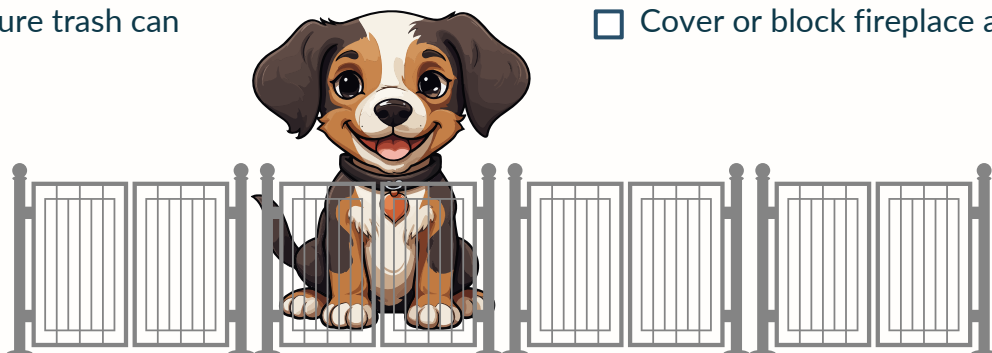

- ☐ Store shoes in closed closets
- ☐ Hide charging cables
- ☐ Remove small items from nightstands
- ☐ Keep laundry in hampers with lids

Garage & Outdoors

- ☐ Lock up antifreeze & chemicals
- ☐ Store tools out of reach
- ☐ Check fence for gaps or holes
- ☐ Remove toxic plants from yard
- ☐ Secure pool or pond access
- ☐ Pick up rocks & mulch pieces

General

- ☐ Install baby gates for off-limit areas
- ☐ Set up a puppy-safe zone
- ☐ Remove or secure dangling cords
- ☐ Check for gaps behind furniture
- ☐ Cover or block fireplace access

Your Puppy's First Week

A simple daily rhythm to help your puppy settle in. Adjust times to fit your household.

Sample Daily Routine

Time	Activity	Notes
7:00 AM	Wake Up + Potty	Take puppy outside immediately. Praise when they go!
7:15 AM	Breakfast	Feed in crate or designated spot. Fresh water available.
7:45 AM	Potty + Short Walk	Brief outdoor time. Let them sniff and explore.
8:00 AM	Supervised Play	10-15 min of gentle play. Introduce one toy at a time.
8:30 AM	Crate / Nap Time	Puppies need 18-20 hrs of sleep. Rest is essential.
10:30 AM	Potty + Play	Another potty break, then short play or training.
11:00 AM	Nap Time	Back to the crate for rest. Keep it calm and quiet.
12:30 PM	Lunch + Potty	Second meal, then straight outside for potty.
1:00 PM	Socialization Time	Gentle exposure to new sounds, textures, people.
1:30 PM	Nap Time	Quiet rest. Cover crate if puppy is restless.
3:30 PM	Potty + Play	Potty break, then active play or short training.
4:00 PM	Nap Time	Another rest period. Consistency builds confidence.
5:30 PM	Dinner + Potty	Third meal (if under 12 weeks), then outside.
6:00 PM	Family Time	Calm interaction. Practice handling ears, paws, mouth.
7:00 PM	Potty + Wind Down	Last play session, then start settling for the night.
8:00 PM	Final Potty + Bed	Last trip outside. Crate with a chew or stuffed Kong.

Every puppy is different. Watch for their cues and adjust as you go. You've got this!

Guides & How-Tos

Practical tips and step-by-step help for the big stuff.

Crate Training Guide

A crate isn't a cage — it's your puppy's safe space. Done right, crate training builds confidence, security, and independence.

1 Set Up the Space

Place the crate in a common area where your family hangs out. Leave the door open. Add a soft blanket and a safe chew toy. Let your puppy explore on their own terms — no pushing or forcing.

2 Create Positive Associations

Toss treats and kibble inside. Feed meals in the crate with the door open. Your puppy should think: good things happen in here! A stuffed Kong works wonders for building love for the crate.

3 Close the Door (Briefly!)

Once your puppy goes in willingly, close the door for just a few seconds. Stay right there. Open before they fuss. Gradually increase the time — seconds become minutes become naps.

4 Build Duration & Distance

Slowly increase how long the door stays closed. Step out of sight briefly, then return calmly. No big hellos or goodbyes — keep it low-key. Calm energy teaches calm behavior.

5 Nighttime Crating

Keep the crate in your bedroom at first. Puppies sleep better near you. Take them out for a potty break if they whine, then right back in — quiet and calm. Most puppies adjust within a week.

6 Troubleshooting

Whining is normal at first — wait for a pause before opening. Never use the crate as punishment. If your puppy panics, slow down and go back a step. Patience always wins.

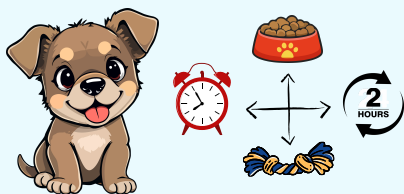

Remember: The crate is their den, not a punishment. Keep it positive, keep it patient, and your puppy will learn to love their own little space.

Potty Training Roadmap

Routine, repetition, and reward. Your puppy isn't being bad — they're learning. Here's how to guide them.

1 Build a Routine

Take them out after waking, eating, playing, drinking, and every 1-2 hours for young puppies. Always right before bed. The more predictable you are, the faster they catch on.

2 Watch for the Signs

Sniffing the floor, circling, wandering to the door, suddenly stopping play — these are your puppy saying "I gotta go!" Act fast and head outside.

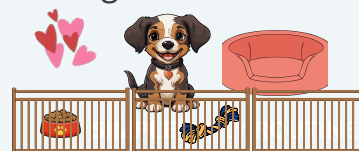

3 Praise & Reward Immediately

The second they go in the right spot, celebrate! Treats, happy voice, the works. They need to connect the action with the reward right then and there.

4 Manage the Environment

Limit freedom until they're reliable. Use crates, playpens, or baby gates when you can't supervise. Every accident inside is a missed learning moment.

5 Handle Setbacks with Grace

Accidents will happen — clean up calmly with an enzyme cleaner. Never punish after the fact. Just reset, stay consistent, and keep going.

6 Nighttime Success

Last potty break right before bed. Set an alarm for middle-of-the-night trips for young puppies. Keep it boring — no play, just business. They'll stretch longer as they grow.

Progress over perfection. Stay consistent, celebrate the wins, and remember — your puppy is learning. You're doing great!

Teething Guide

Chewing is normal. Here's how to survive it — and help your puppy through it.

TEETHING TIMELINE

2-4 weeks — Baby teeth start coming in

5-6 weeks — All 28 baby teeth are in

12-16 weeks — Baby teeth start falling out

4-6 months — Peak chewing and discomfort

6-7 months — All 42 adult teeth are in

Chewing is how puppies explore the world & soothe sore gums. It's not misbehavior!

SIGNS OF TEETHING

Drooling more than usual

Chewing on everything in sight

Red or swollen gums

Finding tiny teeth on the floor

Fussiness or whining

Less interest in food

Slight bleeding from gums

SAFE CHEWING OPTIONS

Frozen washcloths (wet and twist)

Rubber puppy chew toys

Frozen carrots or banana chunks

Rope toys (supervised only)

Stuffed Kongs (freeze for extra relief)

Puppy-safe teething rings

Bully sticks (size-appropriate)

Rotate toys to keep things interesting!

WHAT TO AVOID

Cooked bones — splinter risk

Old shoes or socks — teaches bad habits

Sticks — can splinter and puncture

Hard antlers — can crack teeth

Small toys — choking hazard

Rawhide — swelling and blockage risk

SOOTHING TIPS

Freeze a wet washcloth — the cold soothes sore gums

Offer a frozen Kong stuffed with peanut butter or pumpkin

Gently massage their gums with your finger

Redirect chewing to an approved toy every single time

Keep valuable items out of reach — set them up to succeed

Stay patient. This phase passes faster than you think!

Never punish chewing. Redirect and reward instead.

THIS TOO SHALL PASS

Teething is temporary.

Your patience now builds trust forever.

Every redirected chew is a win.

You're doing an amazing job.

Teach Your Puppy to Sit

A simple step-by-step way to teach one of the most important basic skills.

How It Works

Puppies follow food with their nose

When their nose goes up, their body goes down

Sitting = Reward = Learn Quickly

Follow the Treat

1 Puppy is moving around and not focused yet. Call him and bring out a treat.

2 He finds the scent - guide their nose up and back until they sit

3 The moment he sits, mark (immediately YES!) and reward with the treat.

Step-by-Step

1. Hold a treat close to your puppy's nose.
2. Slowly move it up and slightly towards their back.
3. Let their body follow naturally while you move the treat.
4. When their butt hits the ground say "YES!" in an excited tone.
5. Give the treat immediately.
6. Add the word "sit" as they start doing this successfully.

Quick Tips

- ✓ Keep sessions short (1-2 minutes)
- ✓ Practice a few times a day
- ✓ Use small, soft treats
- ✓ Train before meals for better focus

Common Mistakes

- ✗ Saying "Sit" over and over
- ✗ Moving too fast - this causes jumping
- ✗ Rewarding too late
- ✗ Pushing their body into the sitting position

Progress Over Perfection

Some tries will be messy.

Some will be perfect.

Repetition is the key to every successful training.

Teaching Leave It

Dogs don't naturally know what's off limits. "Leave It" teaches self-control, safety & trust.

What "Leave It" Means

The Leave It command is one of the most important lessons dogs can learn. It teaches them to:

- ✓ Ignore something
- ✓ Turn to you when safety matters

The reward comes from YOU - not the item they are asked to leave alone.

When To Use

- Animals or distractions
- Food on the ground
- Trash or unsafe items
- Household items (shoes, cords)

This command can keep your puppy safe.

How to Teach "Leave It"

1. Say "Leave It"
2. Show puppy your closed hand with the treat inside
3. Let puppy sniff, lick or paw at it
4. Say nothing - just wait

5. The moment they stop and pull away or look at you, say "YES!" in an excited tone.
6. Reward with a different treat from other hand.

Always reward when they choose YOU over the item so they learn that ignoring the item gets them rewarded.

Practicing & Progress

When the first steps are becoming easier for the puppy, add some harder temptations:

- Put a treat on the floor and cover it with your hand
 - Treat on the floor uncovered
 - Toys, food, other objects
 - Practice walking past items on leash
- ✓ Always reward when the puppy chooses YOU over the item

Common Mistakes

Mistakes to avoid:

- Repeating "leave it" over and over
- Letting the puppy grab it just this once
- Moving too fast and not letting them figure it out on their time
- Only using the command when things go wrong - use frequently instead

Practice often, when things are calm, and when you don't need it so the times you do will be more effective

Basic Leash Training

Walking together starts with trust. Teach your puppy that the leash means good things happen!

1

Introduce the Gear

Let your puppy sniff and explore the collar, harness, and leash before clipping anything on. Wearing the collar indoors for short periods first helps acclimate them before they feel the leash pressure.

2

Clip & Follow

Attach the leash and let your puppy drag it around indoors (supervised!). Then pick it up and simply follow them — no pulling, no steering.

3

Reward the Check-In

When your puppy looks back at you, say "YES!" and give a treat right away. You're teaching them that staying connected to you pays off.

4

Take a Few Steps

Walk a few steps forward. If your puppy follows with a loose leash, reward again. Keep it short and fun — just a few steps at a time.

5

Stop When They Pull

If the leash goes tight, stop walking. Don't yank back. Just wait. The moment the leash loosens, say "YES!" and move forward together.

6

Build Distance Slowly

Gradually add more steps between treats. Move to slightly busier areas as your puppy improves. Patience is your superpower here.

Tips for Success

- Keep sessions to 5 minutes max
- Use high-value treats at first
- Practice in your yard before the sidewalk
- Always end on a positive note

Common Mistakes

- Pulling back when puppy pulls (tug game!)
- Using a retractable leash too early
- Starting in busy or exciting environments
- Expecting perfect walks right away

Managing Puppy Chewing

Puppies chew. It's what they do. The trick isn't stopping it, it's steering it in the right direction.

The Redirect Method

Why Puppies Chew the Wrong Things

Teething pain, boredom, anxiety, curiosity, or just because it feels good. Puppies explore with their mouths the way toddlers use their hands. Understanding the why helps you fix the what.

1

Interrupt Calmly

Say "ah-ah" or clap once. No yelling, no chasing. Stay calm — your energy sets the tone.

2

Offer the Right Thing

Immediately hand them an approved chew toy. Make it exciting! Wiggle it, squeak it, make it the better option.

3

Praise Like Crazy

The second they take the right toy, celebrate. Treats, happy voice, pets. They need to know: THIS is what earns the good stuff.

DO THIS

- Rotate chew toys daily to keep them fresh
- Freeze Kongs with peanut butter for relief
- Puppy-proof one room at a time
- Supervise or confine — no unsupervised freedom yet
- Exercise before alone time to reduce boredom chewing

NOT THAT

- Yelling or hitting — it breaks trust, not habits
- Chasing your puppy to grab the item back
- Giving old shoes or socks as toys
- Punishing after the fact — they won't connect it
- Leaving tempting items within reach and hoping for the best

The golden rule: If your puppy can reach it, they will chew it. Set them up to succeed by managing the environment and always having an approved chew within arm's reach.

Logs & Trackers

Simple tools to track your puppy's growth, habits, and wins.

Behavior & Mood Log

Track patterns so you can understand what your puppy needs.

[illegible]

Weekly Puppy Routine Tracker

Track your puppy's daily rhythm. Check off or write notes for each day.

Week of: _____

	MON	TUE	WED	THU	FRI	SAT	SUN
Wake Time
Meals
Potty Breaks
Naps
Training
Walk & Play
Bedtime

Consistency builds confidence. Track the rhythm, not perfection.

Weekly Puppy Routine Tracker

Track your puppy's daily rhythm. Check off or write notes for each day.

Week of: _____

	MON	TUE	WED	THU	FRI	SAT	SUN
Wake Time
Meals
Potty Breaks
Naps
Training
Walk & Play
Bedtime

Consistency builds confidence. Track the rhythm, not perfection.

Weekly Puppy Routine Tracker

Track your puppy's daily rhythm. Check off or write notes for each day.

Week of: _____

	MON	TUE	WED	THU	FRI	SAT	SUN
Wake Time
Meals
Potty Breaks
Naps
Training
Walk & Play
Bedtime

Consistency builds confidence. Track the rhythm, not perfection.

Socialization Tracker

Helping your puppy feel confident in the world — one positive experience at a time.

What Is Socialization?

Socialization means gently introducing your puppy to new people, animals, places, sounds, surfaces, and experiences during their critical learning window (roughly 3-16 weeks). The goal isn't to overwhelm — it's to build positive associations so your puppy grows into a confident, well-adjusted dog.

How to Use This Tracker

Log Each Experience

When your puppy has a new experience, find the matching category and jot the date and a quick note in the open box. No schedule needed — just log it when it happens.

Note Their Reaction

Was your puppy curious, cautious, scared, or relaxed? Tracking reactions helps you see patterns and know what needs more gentle exposure.

Keep It Positive

Every experience should end on a good note. If your puppy seems stressed, create distance, offer treats, and try again another day at a lower intensity.

Track Progress Over Time

Revisit experiences across multiple sessions. A puppy who was nervous about skateboards on Monday might be curious by Friday. That's the win!

What You'll Track

People & Handling

Animals, Places, Sounds & More

Socialization isn't about quantity — it's about quality. One calm, positive experience is worth more than ten overwhelming ones.

People & Handling

Write the date and a quick note each time your puppy has a new experience.

People

Children

Adults

Strangers

Uniforms
& Hats

Handling

Ears &
Head

Paws &
Nails

Mouth &
Teeth

Grooming

Gentle, regular handling now means easier vet visits, grooming, and nail trims for life.

Animals, Places, Sounds & More

Write the date and a quick note each time your puppy has a new experience.

Animals, Places & Surfaces

Dogs

Other
Animals

Indoor
Places

Outdoor
Places

Surfaces

Sounds, Objects & Experiences

Sounds

Objects

Car
Rides

Vet
Visits

New Experiences

The more your puppy experiences now, the braver they'll be later.

Training Log

Building good habits together — one session at a time.

Why Track Training?

Keeping a simple log helps you see what's working, stay consistent, and celebrate progress. Training is a journey — and every small win adds up. When you write it down, you'll spot patterns, remember what to practice next, and feel great about how far your puppy has come.

1

Pick a Command

Choose a skill you're working on — like Sit, Stay, Come, or Leave It — and log each practice session with the date.

2

Note What Happened

Did your puppy nail it, need a few tries, or get distracted? A quick note helps you track what's clicking.

3

Keep Sessions Short

Puppies learn best in short bursts — 3 to 5 minutes is plenty. End on a win so your puppy stays excited to learn.

4

Watch for Progress

Look back at your notes over time. You'll see how far your puppy has come — and know exactly what to work on next.

What You'll Track

Commands

Skills & Real-World Practice

Training isn't about perfection — it's about connection. Every session strengthens the bond between you and your puppy.

Training Log

Write the date and a quick note each time you practice a command or skill.

Commands

Sit

Stay

Come

Down

Leave It

Skills & Real-World Practice

Leash Walking

Crate

Drop It

Wait

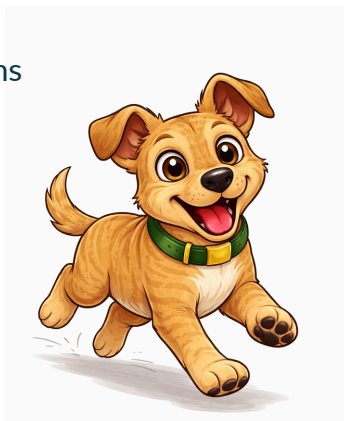

Recall Outdoors

Every rep builds trust. Every session is a step forward — together.

Puppy Milestones

Celebrate every first! Check off milestones as your puppy grows.

- | | |
|--|-------------|
| ☐ First night home | Date: _____ |
| ☐ First car ride | Date: _____ |
| ☐ First bath | Date: _____ |
| ☐ First vet visit | Date: _____ |
| ☐ First walk on leash | Date: _____ |
| ☐ Learned to sit | Date: _____ |
| ☐ Learned to stay | Date: _____ |
| ☐ Learned their name | Date: _____ |
| ☐ First playdate with another dog | Date: _____ |
| ☐ First trip to a pet store | Date: _____ |
| ☐ Slept through the night | Date: _____ |
| ☐ Went potty outside consistently | Date: _____ |
| ☐ First grooming appointment | Date: _____ |
| ☐ Learned "leave it" | Date: _____ |
| ☐ First time off-leash (safely!) | Date: _____ |
| ☐ Completed puppy vaccinations | Date: _____ |
| ☐ Spayed / neutered | Date: _____ |

Food & Medical

What to feed, what to skip, and keeping your puppy healthy.

Human Foods Guide

Know what's safe to share — and what to keep far from those puppy mouths.

Safe to Share

Carrots

Raw or cooked, great for teeth

Blueberries

Antioxidant-rich, perfect training treat

Watermelon

Seedless only, remove rind

Cooked chicken

Plain, no bones or seasoning

Cooked salmon

Boneless, great for coat health

Pumpkin

Plain canned, helps digestion

Sweet potato

Cooked, no seasoning

Apple slices

Remove seeds and core

Green beans

Plain, fresh or frozen

Peanut butter

Xylitol-free only!

Rice

Plain white or brown, easy on tummy

Banana

In moderation, high in sugar

Eggs

Cooked, a protein boost

Cucumber

Low-calorie, hydrating snack

Oatmeal

Cooked, plain, no sugar

Never Give

Chocolate

All types — can be fatal

Grapes & raisins

Causes kidney failure

Onions & garlic

Damages red blood cells

Xylitol

Found in gum, candy, peanut butter

Macadamia nuts

Causes weakness and vomiting

Avocado

Contains persin, toxic to dogs

Alcohol

Even small amounts are dangerous

Caffeine

Coffee, tea, energy drinks

Cooked bones

Splinter and cause blockages

Raw yeast dough

Expands in stomach, produces alcohol

Nutmeg

Can cause seizures

Cherry pits

Contain cyanide

Salty snacks

Excess salt causes poisoning

Fatty trimmings

Can trigger pancreatitis

Corn on the cob

Cob causes intestinal blockage

When in doubt, check with your vet before sharing any human food.

Food Allergy Guide

Food allergies can cause skin, ear and digestive symptoms.
Here's what to watch for and how to figure out the culprit.

SYMPTOMS TO WATCH FOR

- | | |
|--|--------------------------------------|
| ⚠ Itchy skin (face, paws, ears, belly) | ⚠ Vomiting or diarrhea after meals |
| ⚠ Chronic ear infections | ⚠ Gas, bloating, or gurgling stomach |
| ⚠ Red, inflamed skin or hot spots | ⚠ Watery eyes or runny nose |
| ⚠ Excessive licking or chewing paws | ⚠ Hair loss or dull coat |

Common Food Allergens

- Beef — The #1 food allergen in dogs
- Dairy — Milk, cheese, yogurt
- Chicken — Very common in commercial foods
- Wheat — Found in many kibbles and treats
- Soy — Often a filler ingredient
- Eggs — Less common but worth noting
- Lamb — Once hypoallergenic, now common
- Corn — A frequent filler and can be an allergen

Elimination Diet Steps

1. Talk to your vet first. They'll help you choose a novel protein or hydrolyzed diet.
2. Feed only the new diet for 8-12 weeks. No treats, table scraps, or flavored meds.
3. Track everything in your Allergy Tracker. Note symptoms daily.
4. Watch for improvement. Skin and ear issues may take 6-8 weeks to clear.
5. Reintroduce one food at a time every 1-2 weeks. Watch for reactions.
6. Identify the trigger. If symptoms improve and return after the challenge it's likely a food trigger.

Important Reminders

- Food allergies develop over time — your puppy can become allergic to something they've eaten for months.
- Allergies and intolerances are different. Intolerances cause digestive upset; allergies trigger immune responses.
- Most dogs are allergic to proteins, not grains. Don't go grain-free without vet guidance.
- An elimination diet is the gold standard. Blood and saliva allergy tests are often unreliable for food allergies.
- Use the Allergy Tracker on the next page to log meals, treats, and symptoms every day during the trial.

When in doubt, your vet is your best partner. Together, you'll figure it out.

Vaccinations

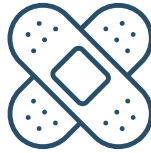

Vaccination Records

Date

[illegible]

Vet Visit Log

DATE:

REASON:

NOTES:

DATE:

REASON:

NOTES:

DATE:

REASON:

NOTES:

Vet Visit Log

DATE:

REASON:

NOTES:

DATE:

REASON:

NOTES:

DATE:

REASON:

NOTES:

A place for your thoughts, questions, and everything in between.

Notes

[illegible]

Notes

[illegible]

Notes

[illegible]

You showed up for your puppy, and that matters more than you know.
Every page you fill in is a step toward a confident, happy life together.

RaisingMyPuppy.com
